

No. 23,137.

Published at the General Post Office, Sydney, New South Wales, on Friday, March 8, 1912.

SUMMARY.

The great coal strike is affecting every department of industry, and many shops are closing.

A more optimistic feeling prevails, as the miners' executive has agreed to confer with the industrial Council.

Mr. Asquith states it is pure imagination to consider that the Government is going to lay down a minimum wage.

"As the position is delicate," he added, "the Government would not discuss it in the Commons at the present stage."

Union leaders are growing anxious owing to the depletion of funds through so many industries being out of employment.

During a Commons debate, Mr. A. H. Lee (Aldershot) adversely criticised the Territorial Force, he said, were £5,000 being established.

Their cost to the nation, he added, had been £11 per head, compared with £7 per head for the volunteers.

The Foreign Affairs Committee of the French Chamber of Deputies has approved the ratification of the Treaty of Commerce.

General Gough has been promoted to the rank of Major-General, and will be in command of the 1st Division.

Mr. Christlacher has been promoted to the rank of Major-General, and will be in command of the 1st Division.

RELATION

HE who is blessed with the power to create is blessed with God's greatest gift to man, and if he uses that power to increase the happiness of his fellow-men he becomes a benefactor to the human race.

The world owes homage to the men who have devoted their burning energies to the consummation of one purpose, to the final and most perfect development of an ideal.

The Steinway

Piano

Is an example of the grand result of years of persistent, purposeful striving after the very highest musical ideal. Sons have taken up the task where fathers left off, so that three generations of genius, working through the finest piano factory in the world, have evolved the Steinway—a piano that has long since been acknowledged the musical masterpiece of the age.

A special council meeting was called for Wednesday evening last, to consider the recommendations of the constitution amendment committee, which has had authority to make recommendations for reorganization proposed at the December conference. The council gave the whole conference.

The council has to do so the mouthpiece of the council; and (d) That none of the branches so formed shall have power to make direct representation to the council, but that all such representations which concern only the claims they represent.

Mr. Deane explained that the proposal is to have a road which is not a main road, but a branch road. Personally, I was in a rule, to be amongst the most important of the council.

the second division of the bill, relating to administration, then came under discussion.

Mr. COHEN moved an amendment to the clause which reads "The council shall have the right to carry out the work." Mr. COHEN moved an amendment to the clause which reads "The council shall have the right to carry out the work." The proposal advanced by the member for Peterborough that there should be no out-of-camera amendment was defeated by 16 votes.

Mr. WOOD moved an amendment to add section "A," to make provision for the representation of students, men and women assistants—and smaller representation of students training, and perhaps, other smaller grades; (c) country representation. After lengthy debate, which the principle of equal representation was criticized, the amendment was carried. The council will, at next week's meeting.

The amendment was rejected by 19 to 22.

Mr. WADSWORTH said that under the old Act rates were deducted from the amount which taxation had to be paid. There was similar provision in the bill, and he therefore proposed an amendment reading:

STUDY CHAMBER OF COMMERCE.

He said that the Chamber of Commerce of New York City had been organized for nearly 300 years. It was now going along Cleveland-street, where a corporation ticket-agent was selling tickets to New York and other places. He thought it would be better if the Chamber of Commerce could move out of the way, and situate itself, and asked some friends to continue for nearly 300 years. A man, going along Cleveland-street, saw a corporation ticket-agent, and he thought it would be better if the Chamber of Commerce could move out of the way, and situate itself, and asked some friends to continue for nearly 300 years.

ALTERATION OF CONSTITUTION.

A special committee composed of members of the Sydney Chamber of Commerce was held at the Royal Exchange yesterday, Mr. J. M. Paxton presiding. It was considered and duly passed that New South Wales should be a member of the Sydney chamber, subject to to get out of the way—stating, going to move, as he had a lot both of these things in his mind. He said that his wrong side had been guilty of a breach of traffic regulations, and, with regard to him as the driver, responsibility to him as the driver.

the amendment.

There was but little discussion on the remaining clauses. Mr. Wood drew attention to the clause relating to the defence that it was intended, but failed to move the Minister from an attitude of refusal to accept any alteration in the text, and gave up the task in despair.

The following by-laws:—

All applications shall be submitted to the committee.

Members of affiliated chambers shall be entitled to attend a general meeting of the Sydney chamber, and to speak there as members of the chamber.

These by-laws were passed, and the following resolutions were adopted:—

That the committee be authorised to write to myself as the owner of the car, pants and the car would have many of two reasons for not doing so. In instances there was no policeman to stop, as usual, an example could be given in the matter. I would suggest that the committee be authorised to request officers to patrol our streets and the bill was reported without amendments.

INCOME TAX (AMENDMENT)

THE TREASURER moved the second reading of the Income Tax (Amendment) Bill. He explained that its chief provision was the removal of that portion of the Act of 1911 which required that the members of the affiliated chambers shall be entitled to submit to the Sydney council a resolution which they desire an expression of opinion or assistance.

Members of affiliated chambers shall have the right of visiting the rooms of the Sydney council at any time during business hours for the purpose of seeking information.

At any rate, if this amendment were merely adopted by the council, it would not alter the transaction, the transfer promptly brought before the council would be punished, a marked improvement in the position of the employees of the employing, such officers would be justified. THE GREAT STRIKE.

BOTH SIDES FIRM.

INDUSTRIAL COUNCIL'S EFFORTS.

STRAIN ON OUTSIDE UNIONS.

LONDON, March 7. The industrial council is considering the miners' schedule together with the figures of the miners.

A more optimistic feeling prevails as the executive of the Miners' Federation has agreed to meet the industrial council.

The strike situation is unchanged. There is no sign of either side yielding. The strike is slowly tightening its grip on every industry.

The trades union leaders are growing anxious, owing to the depletion of funds and the fact that the industrial council has agreed to meet the Miners' Federation.

The Amalgamated Society of Railway Servants is faced with an outlay of £20,000 weekly in unemployed pay.

Two hundred Oxford undergraduates have offered their services to the colliery owners.

The cutting off of the supply of electricity in the daytime has rendered many factories idle.

The light and tramway services at Aberdeen are being curtailed.

March 7, 10.40 a.m.

The London and North-Western Railway Company will run only statutory trains after Monday.

"A DELICATE POSITION."

MINISTERIAL STATEMENT.

Replying to Mr. Ramsay MacDonald (Labour) in the House of Commons this afternoon, the Premier said it was not his intention to concede the Government was going to introduce a bill to lay down a minimum wage.

The strike position, he added, was not so delicate, and he hoped the Government would not be deceived in the House of Commons at the present stage.

The Government, he added, was to meet representatives of the men to-day.

ATTITUDE OF RAILWAY MEN.

The executive of the Amalgamated Society of Railway Servants, in reply to the representation of the industrial council, has declared that it is in view of the favourable position of the miners, there is no reason for combined action.

The committee adds that it is unable to sanction a refusal to work from trains.

It has also underlined its influence to branch unions in Trafalgar-square in reference to the miners' strike.

MINERS HOLIDAY-MAKING.

Many miners in Staffordshire and Derbyshire attended the miners' holiday yesterday.

Blackpool is full of visitors, who are well supplied with money.

Three hundred pit boys in Sunderland failed the paddocks of a colliery last night, and each received a penny.

They then had a wild midnight gallop through the adjacent villages.

Many miners in Yorkshire are following the miners on foot.

The grapevine shows in Wales are crowded, and the picture theatres in Pontypridd are open continuously.

TRADESMEN REFUSED CREDIT.

Wholesale houses are refusing to supply retailers in the mining centres except for cash. Many shops are closing.

TERRITORIALS CRITICISED.

LONDON, March 7.

In the course of the debate on the Army Estimates in the House of Commons last night, Mr. A. H. Lee (Conservative), ex-Civil Lord of the Admiralty, stated that the Territorials were 45,000 men and 100,000 officers of full strength. Only 18 per cent. had attended the full training course, and 15 per cent. had failed in musketry. The cost had been £11 per head, compared with £7 per head for the volunteers.

Col. J. B. Seely, Parliamentary Secretary to the War Office, stated that the Government had not based their military strategy on the assumption that Britain's sea supremacy was waning. They were satisfied that the overseas garrison was adequate, though circumstances might arise necessitating its reinforcement. They were unable to withdraw the South African garrison at present.

Continuing, he said that if Great Britain were to be attacked from the sea, it would be necessary to have full conscription, and not the modified form advocated by Lord Roberts. But our naval supremacy prevented the landing of any great force in Britain.

The leader of the Opposition, Mr. Bonar Law, said that he did not want the soldiers to think that their life was worse than that of the sailor, and he admitted that it was now it represented a great improvement on the old weapon.

March 7, 10.40 a.m.

The London and North-Western Railway Company will run only statutory trains after Monday.

"A DELICATE POSITION."

MINISTERIAL STATEMENT.

Replying to Mr. Ramsay MacDonald (Labour) in the House of Commons this afternoon, the Premier said it was not his intention to concede the Government was going to introduce a bill to lay down a minimum wage.

The strike position, he added, was not so delicate, and he hoped the Government would not be deceived in the House of Commons at the present stage.

The Government, he added, was to meet representatives of the men to-day.

ATTITUDE OF RAILWAY MEN.

The executive of the Amalgamated Society of Railway Servants, in reply to the representation of the industrial council, has declared that it is in view of the favourable position of the miners, there is no reason for combined action.

The committee adds that it is unable to sanction a refusal to work from trains.

It has also underlined its influence to branch unions in Trafalgar-square in reference to the miners' strike.

MINERS HOLIDAY-MAKING.

Many miners in Staffordshire and Derbyshire attended the miners' holiday yesterday.

Blackpool is full of visitors, who are well supplied with money.

Three hundred pit boys in Sunderland failed the paddocks of a colliery last night, and each received a penny.

They then had a wild midnight gallop through the adjacent villages.

Many miners in Yorkshire are following the miners on foot.

The grapevine shows in Wales are crowded, and the picture theatres in Pontypridd are open continuously.

TRADESMEN REFUSED CREDIT.

Wholesale houses are refusing to supply retailers in the mining centres except for cash. Many shops are closing.

THE SUFFRAGISTS.

ACCUSED BEFORE THE COURT.

CHARGE OF CONSPIRACY.

LONDON, March 7.

Mr. Pankhurst and Mrs. Tuke, who received sentences of imprisonment on the charge of conspiracy, were released yesterday.

Mr. Pankhurst was released on bail, and Mrs. Tuke was released on her own recognisance.

REVOLT IN MEXICO.

FOREIGNERS IN DANGER.

ATTITUDE OF UNITED STATES.

CHICAGO, March 7.

Mr. H. L. Stimson, United States Secretary of War, explained to a large audience while speaking on a question of policy, that the great danger to foreigners was apprehended in Mexico.

If, he said, the Mexicans once got the idea that the United States was not to be trusted, the army would be stationed near the border, and they would wreak vengeance on all foreigners within the country.

AN OMINOUS APPOINTMENT.

EL PASO (Texas), March 7.

Despatches from Chihuahua announce that General Orozco has been appointed to the command of all the insurrectionary forces operating in Northern Mexico. This appointment indicates a still greater spread of the insurrection.

Continuing, he said that if Great Britain were to be attacked from the sea, it would be necessary to have full conscription, and not the modified form advocated by Lord Roberts. But our naval supremacy prevented the landing of any great force in Britain.

THE SOUTH POLE.

REPORTED DISCOVERY.

AN UNCONFIRMED MESSAGE.

WELLINGTON, N.Z., Thursday.

Captain Amundsen, leader of the Norwegian expedition to the South Pole, has telegraphed to Sydney that Captain Scott reached the South Pole.

Professor David's opinion.

"GOOD CHANCE OF SUCCESS."

SCOTT AND AMUNDSEN BOTH LIKELY.

So far as could be ascertained last evening on this message as to whether or not the expedition to the South Pole had been received in Sydney from Captain Amundsen.

Professor David, the chief Australian authority on South Polar exploration, seen last night with regard to the above message, he knew of no such message having been sent to Sydney. The only thing certain so far was that Captain Amundsen had returned.

He said that he had heard from the explorer that he had been expected at Hobart for about a fortnight.

It was generally thought by Polar authorities, and I am sure, that Captain Scott and Captain Amundsen had good chances of success, and that both were likely to reach the South Pole.

Amundsen would travel by the Antarctic route, and that he had a more powerful team of dogs. Captain Scott, in the early stages of the journey, relied on his Manchurian ponies and two powerful motor sledges.

MASKED BURGLARS.

SENSATIONAL OCCURRENCE.

ROBBERY AT KENSINGTON.

A GANG OF FIVE ARMED MEN.

A burglary characterized by extraordinary coolness and success was carried out early yesterday morning at Kensington by a gang of five men, three of whom were armed.

The house selected was Melville, in Downing-street, opposite Victoria Park racecourse, the residence of Mr. George Russell, a jockey, who lives there with his wife and three children.

The burglars, who were dressed in civilian clothes, entered the house by the back door, and proceeded to the room where the safe was kept.

They opened the safe, and found it empty. They then proceeded to
